

Gilman ten Town History

Lieut. Parker Morgan be a Committee to new shingle the meeting house, and that for this purpose they sell at auction the pew ground covered by two long seats, on each side of the broad aisle. Accordingly, an auction was held on the 10th of June, and $250 was obtained by the sales.

May 26, 1807, voted to accept the report of the Committee, to repair the meeting House, and to raise by subscription $250 to clapboard the meeting House.

The above measures, embracing a period of about 33 years, contain the principal matters in the history of the Rev. Mr. Smith's meeting House. This House stood with very little further repair, excepting what was done to restore an injury received on the roof by a gale of wind, during the Rev. Mr. Spofford's ministry, and was finally taken down in 1839, being found too large and incommodious; and out of its ruins was raised the present neat and comfortable House of the first church, in the summer of 1840, which was dedicated in the autumn of that year.

For several years the town was very harmonious in regard to Rev. Mr. Smith's salary, but as meetings of other denominations began to multiply, a disposition was manifested occasionally to throw off the town's obligation to the standing order. First a proposal was made to have assessors and a collector of the Minister tax, separate from the Selectmen and constables, who made and collected the other taxes of the town. Then an effort was made to divide the Ministerial lands among the different Societies. This, at first failed, but afterwards succeeded.

In September 2d, 1805, Col. Samuel Greely, Capt. John Moody, Capt. David Sanborn, Capt. Benjamin Stevens, Dr. William Smith, Col. Joseph Badger, and Lieut. David Sanborn, were appointed by the town a Committee, to petition for an act of incorporation, as a religious society. But on the 26th of May, 1807, the town voted not to receive an act of incorporation, but that the Selectmen make the tax as they have done for the Rev. Mr. Smith's salary. From 1810 to 1815, no Minister tax was made out. Mr. Smith then, by advice of friends, commenced a suit against the town for his salary.

On the 27th of June, 1815, the town met in relation to an action lately commenced by Isaac Smith, clerk, against said town for the arrearages of his salary, and also an action commenced by said Smith against the town for taxing his property in 1812,

Elizabeth, Mary, Job, and Daniel. He died Sept. 21st, 1833, aged 59.

SMITH MEETING HOUSE BURIAL GROUND AT GILMANTON, NH, files 3 to 5

Originally copied by Mary Lovering Holman, 1911. The Smith Meeting House in Gilmanton was the first church in that part of New Hampshire. Gilmanton has now been divided into Gilmanton, Gilmanton Iron Works, Gilford and Belmont.

I received a photocopy of the typewritten manuscript by Mary Lovering Holman from the NHHS. Here on the Internet with the permission of the NHHS.

All spellings are kept as they were in the manuscript.
