

THE
JOSEPH KIMBALL
FAMILY

INTRODUCTION.

Two hundred and fifty years ago Henry and Richard Kimball, the first emigrants of the name, with their wives and children, fled from the persecutions of the Old World, and landed on New England soil. It would be desirable to have a genealogy of their descendants compiled; but no one has as yet volunteered to undertake so laborious a work.

In the fifth generation was Joseph, who was born in Exeter, N. H., and died in Canterbury. He was the great-grandfather of the compiler. I have attempted to prepare and publish a genealogy of his ancestors, and to give a record of all his descendants who bear the name of Kimball. Where daughters have married, I have given the names of their husbands and children, and in some cases their grandchildren.

Three sons and one daughter of Joseph settled in the state of Maine, and three sons and two daughters remained in New Hampshire.

At first I found much difficulty in tracing the descendants of those who settled in Maine, but by continued effort I have succeeded in obtaining a satisfactory record of most of them. I have written many letters of inquiry; and all to whom I have applied have expressed much joy to learn of their ancestors and cousins in New Hampshire.

The compilation has occupied many of my leisure hours for several years, and it has been to me an agreeable pastime. I express the hope that my efforts will be appreciated by the members of the families whose names are here recorded, and by all others who are interested.

I am indebted to Matthew Adams Stickney, Esq., of Salem, Mass., for valuable information concerning the first four generations. To him, and to all the friends and relatives who have assisted me, I return my thanks.

Previous to 1752 the legal year began on the 25th of March, and the historical year began on the 1st of January. In old records these two methods were frequently combined. Thus: March 10, 1728-'9, means that the year was 1728 of the legal year, and 1729 of the historical year, the latter being the method now in use.

The usual abbreviations for the states are used, which usually appear but once after each family name, where the place of residence is first given.

Names of towns, if without special designation, are supposed to be in New Hampshire. Other abbreviations are used, as b. for born, m. for married, and d. for died.

HISTORICAL MEMORANDA.

In Mr. S. G. Drake's excellent book, entitled "Result of Researches Relative to the Founders of New England," page 51, I find as follows:

"IPSWICH. A note of the names and ages of all the Passengers which tooke shipping in the Elisabeth of Ipswich M^r Will^m Andrews bound for New EngLand the last of April 1634."

There are 55 names on the list, and among them are,—

"Thomas Skott 40, Elisabeth [Skott] his wife 40, Henery Kemball 44, Susan [Kemball] his wife 35, Richard Kemball 39, Vrsula [Kemball] his wife and Martha Scott 60."

The above-named Richard was the ancestor of Joseph Kimball, of Canterbury. His wife was Ursula, sister of Thomas Scott, children of Martha, who came with them.

In the same ship were Thurston Rayner, 40; his wife, Elisabeth Rayner, 36; and six children. One of the children, Elisabeth, 9, afterward married Henry Kemball, 15. See page 16.

"The etymology of the name Kimball is uncertain. It is supposed by some to be of Scotch derivation, a corruption of the name 'Campbell.' It is variously spelled 'Kimball,' 'Kemball,' and 'Kemble.' "*

THE
JOSEPH KIMBALL FAMILY.

FIRST GENERATION.

RICHARD KIMBALL.

I. RICHARD was probably the ancestor of most of the numerous families of the name of Kimball in New England.

On the tenth of April, 1634,* O. S., at the age of 39, he embarked at Ipswich, in the county of Suffolk, Old England, in the ship Elisabeth, William Andrews, master, for Massachusetts, and landed at Ipswich in New England. He first settled in Watertown, of which he was a proprietor, in 1636-'7; was admitted a freeman 6 May, 1635.

[On the map in the history of Watertown, by Henry Bond, M. D., the homestead of "R. Kimball" of six acres where he first settled, is bounded N. by Cambridge, E. by land of W. Hamlet, S. by the highway, and W. by land of Edward White.]

*History of Watertown, Mass., by Henry Bond, M. D., but the "Historical Memoranda" gives the time "last of April."

There came with him his wife, Ursula (Scott) Kimball, and seven children; also, at the same time, in the same ship, the mother of his wife, Martha Scott, who was born in 1574; his brother Henry, aged 44, and his family, consisting of his wife Susanna, aged 35, and children, Elisabeth, aged 4, and Susanna, aged 1½ years. Besides the foregoing, Thomas Scott, brother-in-law to Richard, aged 40, his wife Ellsabeth, aged 40, and children, Elisabeth, aged 9, Abigail, aged 7, and Thomas, aged 6, were passengers on the same ship. They settled in Ipswich.

Richard soon after removed from Watertown to Ipswich, and is first known as an inhabitant of that place 23 Feb., 1637-'8, when he was granted by the town "a house lott next adjoining to goodman Simons at the west end of y^e towne;" also granted him the same day "40 acres Beyond the North River near the land of Robert Scott." In 1639-'40, he had "liberty to pasture two cows free." He is mentioned "the last day of last month 1641," as among the commoners of Ipswich, and appointed, 1 March, 1645-'6, as one of the "Seven men." 19 Dec., 1648, he subscribed with others 3s. as his annual proportion towards the sum of 24£ 7s. as a rate for the services of their military leader, Major Daniel Dennison, then commander of the military forces of Essex and Norfolk counties.

His occupation was that of a wheel-wright. January, 1649-'50, he was granted liberty "to fell such white oaks as he hath occasion to make use of about his trade for the towns-use." Also, 1660, "to fell 20 white oak trees to make weels for the Townsman their use." September, 1652, he and Robert Lord were appraisers of the estate of John Cross. In 1653 he was of a committee of three to survey fences in the common fields north of the river.

He was joint executor of the will of his brother-in-law, Thomas Scott, Sen., who died February, 1653-'4, in which instrument he is mentioned as brother Richard Kimball, whom he appoints, with Edmund Bridges, executor. Shortly after, 25 May, 1654, their official trust and obligation were recognized by Thomas Scott, Jr., then a resident of Stamford, Conn.

He married Ursula, the sister of Thomas and daughter of Martha Scott, before his arrival in Ipswich. Married, 2d, Margaret, widow of Henry Dow, of Hampton, 23 Oct., 1661. Margaret died 1 March, 1675-'6. Richard died 22 June, 1675, leaving a will dated 1674-'5. His age was 80 years.

The children of Richard and Martha [Scott] Kimball were,—

2. URSULA,* b. in England, d. in Salisbury, Mass., 17 June, 1658.

* Mr. Rantoul, in his notice of James Kimball, gives Ursula as the oldest child. Mr. Stickney omits Ursula, and names Henry as the oldest child, but says there was a daughter.

3. HENRY, b. in England, 1619, m., 1st, Mary Wyatt; m., 2d, Elisabeth, dau. of Thurston Raynor. She came to New England in the ship Elisabeth, when 9 years old, with Henry, her future husband, who was 15 years old. He removed to Wenham about 1655, and d. about May, 1676.
4. ELISABETH, b. in England, 1621, m. John Severens.
5. RICHARD, b. in England, 1623.
6. MARY, b. in England, 1625, m. Dea. Thomas Knowlton, 17 May, 1682.
7. MARTHA, b. in England, 1629, m. Joseph, son of Philip and Mary [Winslow] Fowler, who was b. 1622. Joseph was killed in battle with the Indians near Deerfield, 19 May, 1676. (A full history of Joseph is given in the "Fowler Family," published in 1883 by Matthew Adams Stickney, Esq., of Salem, Mass.)
8. JOHN, b. in England, 1631, m. Mary, dau. of Humphrey and Bridget Bradstreet, about 1665; m., 2d, Mary, dau. of Francis and Jane [Wilson] Jordan, 8 Oct., 1666. John d. 6 May, 1698.
9. THOMAS, b. in England, 1633, was a wheelwright; m. Mary —; removed to, and was one of the first settlers of, Bradford, Mass., where he was killed by the Indians 3 May, 1676. His wife and five children, viz., Joanna, Thomas, Joseph, Priscilla, and John, were taken prisoners, and carried forty miles into the wilderness, but were returned on the 13th of June the same year.
10. SARAH, b. in Watertown, 1635, m. Edward Allen, of Ipswich, 24 Nov., 1658. They had eight children.
11. BENJAMIN, b., probably in Watertown, 1636-'7; removed to Salisbury, where he was living in 1661-'2, thence to Bradford; m. at Salisbury Mercy, dau. of Robert and Ann Hazeltine, 16 April, 1661. Ann was b. in Brad-

- ford, and d. 5 Jan., 1707-'8. She was one of the first members received into the first church in Bradford, 7 Jan., 1682-'3. Benjamin d. 11 June, 1696.
12. CALEB, b. in Ipswich, 1639, m. Anne, dau. of Robert and Ann Hazeltine, of Bradford, 7 Nov., 1660. Caleb d. 9 April, 1688.

SECOND GENERATION.

RICHARD KIMBALL.

5. RICHARD^s (Richard^r), son of Richard and Ursula (Scott) Kimball, born in England, 1623, came with his parents to New England when but eleven years old, in the ship Elisabeth, and settled with them in Watertown, but soon after moved to Ipswich, where he became a proprietor in 1648; removed to Wenham as early as 1656; was one of the first settlers, and the first of the name in that town. He was a wheelwright by trade, and lived in the west part of the town near Lord's hill (now known as Carr's hill), on the place which in 1873 was occupied by Charles E. Brown, and formerly owned by Joseph Day, 8 Nov., 1657. Soon after his removal he subscribed 3 L as minister's rate, to be paid one half in wheat, the balance in Indian corn. The next year he was chosen selectman, in which office he continued with the exception of three years till 1674. 4 Dec., 1660, he was on the committee to arrange for the building of a new meeting-house. He married, 1st, Mary Gott, who died 2 Sept., 1672; 2d, Mary ———, who survived him. An agreement was made, 26 Sept., 1676, where there were eight

FIFTH GENERATION.

JOSEPH KIMBALL.

30. JOSEPH⁵ (John⁴, Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Exeter 29 Jan., 1730-'31. He resided there, and married, 1st, — —. [The writer has not been able to learn anything as to the history of his first wife. There is a tradition that her name was Olive Wilson.] He married, 2d, Sarah Smith about 1762. There were nine children of Sarah, all born in Exeter. It is believed that they exchanged their property in Exeter for the farm in Canterbury, to which they removed in 1788. He had the misfortune to lose his eyesight before he left Exeter; consequently he never looked upon the town of Canterbury. Six of his children were born after he became blind. Sarah died at Canterbury, 1 March, 1808, aged 65. Joseph died 6 Nov., 1814. They were buried in the old cemetery near "Hackleborough" in Canterbury, where their descendants have erected a suitable granite monument to their memory.

The children of Joseph and — Kimball, born in Exeter, were,—

42. PETER.
43. OLIVE.

The children of Joseph and Sarah [Smith] Kimball, all born in Exeter, were,—

44. MARY, b. June, 1763; m. John Bean, who was b. 7 Sept., 1756, and moved to Mount Vernon, Me., where they cleared the primeval forest and brought to cultivation a fine farm. Here they lived and died, and their descendants are now in possession of the old farm. He was a soldier in the war of the Revolution, receiving a wound in his right arm, which was a serious trouble through life. Mary died 23 Aug., 1829. John died 12 Nov., 1831.

JOSEPH KIMBALL.

48. JOSEPH⁶ (Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Exeter 23 May, 1772. He moved to Canterbury about 1794, and erected a house just south of the meeting-house at Canterbury Centre, where he lived until the year 1797. The house is not now standing. Two large elm trees planted by him mark the spot where he lived. He moved to a farm near to and now owned by the Shakers. Nine of his children were born there. Of a family of ten children, the youngest of which was born in 1813, five were living in 1885.

In the year 1824 he sold his farm and settled at Hill's Corner, where he carried on the manufacture of hand spinning-wheels of all kinds and hay-rakes, and also raised and put up garden-seeds for sale. Later in life he devoted much of his time to the study of history, politics, and religious subjects.

He married, 1st, Mary Hall 3 Jan., 1795, who died 6 Feb., 1817, aged 41; m., 2d, Mary Sanborn (Rand) May, 1817, who died at the house of Joseph Hancock, in Canterbury, 7 Sept., 1864. Joseph died at the home of his son, Joseph Smith, in Gilmanton, 19 June, 1863, aged 91.

SEVENTH GENERATION.

BENJAMIN KIMBALL.

53. BENJAMIN⁷ (John,⁶ Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Canterbury, at the homestead of his father, 27 Dec., 1794. His name came from his maternal grandfather, Benjamin Moulton, of Kensington. He married Ruth, daughter of David and Phebe [Hoit] Ames, of Canterbury, 1 Feb., 1820. After continuing two years with his father on the farm, and two years on a farm in Northfield, he moved to Boscawen in the spring of 1824, and purchased the farm on High street then known as the Frost place. In 1830, having purchased of Hon. Jeremiah Mason, of Portsmouth, attorney for the United States Bank, its lands and water-power at the south part of the town (now Penacook), he moved there and resided in the house he had bought, situated next east of the hotel.

He was an active and influential business man. In 1831 he built the lower dam across the Contoocook river, and erected and put in operation the brick grist and flouring mill now in use. This was the first improvement of the water-power at the upper falls, now the centre of the growing village of Penacook.

In company with his cousin, William Moody Kimball, he carried on an extensive lumber trade. In March preceding his death, which occurred 21 July, 1834, he was elected to represent the town in the legislature, but his health was so impaired that he was not able to take his seat. His wife died at the house of her son John (with whom she had lived a widow forty years), No. 10 North State street, in Concord, 22 Oct., 1874. She was buried in the family lot of her sons, in Blossom Hill cemetery in Concord; and the remains of her husband and three children, that had been buried in the cemetery at Boscawen Plain, were in 1878 reinterred and placed by her side, where a beautiful monument of Quincy granite has been erected to their memory.

The children of Benjamin and Ruth [Ames] Kimball, all but the oldest, b. in Boscawen, were,—

92. JOHN, b. 13 April, 1821.
 93. ELISABETH JANE, b. 12 April, 1825. She was drowned in the pond near the carding mill of Capt. Samuel M. Durgin, in Boscawen, 20 Sept., 1840.
 94. JOSEPH AMES, b. 8 Oct., 1826; d. 20 Feb., 1827.
 95. LUCY ANN, b. 28 Aug., 1829; d. 25 Aug., 1832.
 96. BENJAMIN AMES, b. 22 Aug., 1833.

JOHN KIMBALL.

55. JOHN⁷ (John,⁶ Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Canterbury, 31 May, 1798. He married Sally Sanborn, daughter of John Peverly, of Canterbury, 24 Oct., 1826. They moved to Boscawen the next day, and settled on the Rolfe farm, near his brother Benjamin, where they resided until his death, which occurred 30 Sept., 1829.

Sally, his widow, married, 2d, Hon. David Morrill, of Canterbury. She was living in 1885.

The child of John and Sally [Sanborn] Peverly was,—

104. JOHN GLEASON, b. 13 March, 1845; m. Jessie Eva, dau. of Thomas Grigg, of Vineland, 25 Dec., 1878.

JEREMIAH KIMBALL.

64. JEREMIAH⁷ (Joseph,⁶ Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Canterbury 30 Nov., 1798; was educated at Phillips Exeter Academy, where he graduated in 1825; married, 1st, Julia, daughter of Timothy Gleason, of Canterbury, 23 Nov., 1826. Julia died in Concord, 9 Jan., 1857, aged 49. He married, 2d, Kate Brown [Rowe], daughter of Matthew Nealey Brown, of Canterbury, 4 Jan., 1869. Kate died in Concord 6 Feb., 1879.

After following the mercantile business in Canterbury and Northfield ten years, in 1836 he moved to South Boscawen and opened a store for the sale of goods, taking in Luther G. Johnson as partner. They were the first tradesmen in what is now Penacook. Changes in the business were made. Mr. Johnson removed to Minneapolis, and Mr. Kimball to Concord, where he has been in active business to this time (1885).

JOSEPH SMITH KIMBALL.

68. JOSEPH SMITH⁷ (Joseph,⁶ Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Canterbury 27 Oct., 1806. At the age of eighteen he was apprenticed to his cousin Benjamin to learn the trade of a millwright, a business successfully carried on by himself and others of the family name for many years. He married Lydia Leavitt, daughter of Joseph Greeley, of Gilmanton, 11 Dec., 1831. They moved into a house built by himself, situated just south of the Union meeting-house in Canterbury, where they lived until 1846, when they moved to the homestead of his father-in-law in Gilmanton. Later in life they moved to East Concord, their present residence. He represented the town of Gilmanton in the legislature of 1866-67.

The children of Joseph Smith and Lydia Leavitt [Greeley] Kimball, both born in Canterbury, were;—

105. ANN ELLZA, b. 28 Aug., 1832; d. in Gilmanton 26 April, 1849.

WILLIAM MOODY KIMBALL.

69. WILLIAM MOODY⁷ (Joseph,⁶ Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Canterbury 4 Dec., 1808; learned the trade of a millwright of his brother Joseph; went to Boscawen in 1832, and was a partner in business with his cousin Benjamin; married Lucy Jane, daughter of Reuben and Judith Hall Johnson, of Boscawen, 8 Jan., 1835.

He was frequently elected to fill the various offices in town. In 1835 he was an owner in the valuable water-power now the basis of the manufacturing village of Penacook.

In early life he was successfully engaged in building factories, mills, and machinery, in New Hampshire and Massachusetts. From 1846 to 1857 he was employed by one of the large manufacturing companies in the city of Lawrence, Mass., as their agent.

In 1857 he moved with his family to Minneapolis, Minn., where he has since resided. During the war he served as quartermaster of Gen. Sibley's expedition against the Sioux Indians. Since the close of the war he has been employed most of the time by the Treasury department of the United States in building and repairing public buildings at Key West, Fla., Wheeling, W. Va., and other places. William Moody died at Minneapolis 5 Sept., 1884.

EIGHTH GENERATION.

JOHN KIMBALL.

92. JOHN⁸ (Benjamin,⁷ John,⁶ Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Canterbury 13 April, 1821. He moved to Boscawen in 1824. At the age of 17 he was apprenticed with his cousin William Moody to learn the trade of a millwright. He followed the business in Boscawen, Suncook, Manchester, Lowell, and Lawrence. In 1848 he took charge of the new machine and car shop of the Concord Railroad at Concord; was master mechanic in 1850, a position he held eight years.

In 1856 he was elected to the common council; reelected in 1857, and was chosen president. In 1858 he was chosen a member of the house of representatives from the Fifth ward, and reelected in 1859. From 1859 to 1862 he served the city of Concord as collector of taxes and city marshal. In 1862 President Lincoln appointed him collector of internal revenue for the second district of New Hampshire; held the office seven years, collecting and paying over to the treasurer of the United States nearly seven millions of dollars. Elected mayor of Concord in 1872-'73-'74-'75. During this time the system of water-supply from Long pond was carried into successful completion. He was elected one of the water commissioners, and is now president of the board. One wooden and two new iron bridges were built across the large rivers in the city, and the fire department was provided with new buildings and apparatus.

In 1876 he was returned a member of the constitutional convention to revise the constitution of the state. In 1877 the legislature made an appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars to build a new state prison. Mr. Kimball was one of the three commissioners appointed by the governor and council to erect the building. In the autumn of 1880 it was completed and appropriately dedicated to its future uses by fitting ceremony.

After the death of Mr. Nathaniel White, 2 Oct., 1880, he was elected president of the Concord Gas-Light Company. The same year the Manchester & Keene Railroad was placed in the hands of three trustees. Mr. Kimball was appointed by the supreme judicial court one of them.

At the election in November, 1880, he was elected to the senate from the Tenth or Concord senatorial district. On the organization of the senate in June, 1881, he was elected its president.

For the last fifteen years he has been treasurer of the Merrimack County Savings Bank, and is director in the Mechanicks National Bank, the Republican Press Association, and treasurer of the N. H. Bible Society and the N. H. Orphans' Home. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon him by Dartmouth college in 1882.

"In person, Mr. Kimball is tall, erect, and of commanding presence; well preserved at the age of sixty-four, and with good prospects for longevity. His modes of life are regular, and he is a total abstainer, through conviction and habit. While firm and decided in his views, he is genial and courteous in personal intercourse. He is a careful reader, with an inclination for genealogical and historical research, and he writes and speaks with precision and effect. He is faithful in every relation of life, public and domestic, and is valued and beloved by his neighbors and friends."

He married Maria, daughter of Elam Phillips, of Rupert, Vt., 27 May, 1846.

The child of John and Maria [Phillips] Kimball was,—

155. CLARA MARIA, b. in Lawrence, Mass., 20 March, 1848;

BENJAMIN AMES KIMBALL.

96. BENJAMIN AMES⁸ (Benjamin,⁷ John,⁶ Joseph,⁵ John,⁴ Caleb,³ Richard,² Richard¹) was born in Boscawen 22 Aug., 1833; received his preparatory education at the high school in Concord, and at the school in Derry under the instruction of Prof. Hildreth. He entered the Chandler Scientific Department of Dartmouth college at its opening in 1851, to fit himself for the profession of mechanical engineer. He graduated with honors 27 July, 1854, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science. 1 Aug., 1854, he entered the employ of the Concord Railroad as draftsman, and was promoted, 19 April, 1856, to be foreman of the locomotive department. 1 Jan., 1858, he succeeded his brother as master mechanic, a position he continued to occupy until 1 April, 1865, when he resigned to become a member of the firm of Ford & Kimball, manufacturers of car wheels and brass and iron castings, a business now successfully carried on by them.

In 1870 he was elected a member of the house of representatives from Ward 6, Concord, declining a reelection in 1871. In 1870 he was a member of the special committee appointed by the city council of Concord to procure plans for an aqueduct from Long pond for its water-supply, and January, 1872, was appointed a member of the board of water commissioners to construct the works, upon the plan and under the ordinance submitted by the committee. He was continued in the board six years, and was its president three years. In 1876 he was elected a member of the constitutional convention. He was president and trustee of the Concord Savings Bank, trustee of the Merrimack County Savings Bank, and director of the Mechanicks National Bank from its organization and is now its president. 11 Jan., 1879, he was elected a director in the Concord Railroad, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Onslow Stearns, and has since been closely connected with its system of roads. In November, 1884, he was chosen councillor for the second district for the term of two years, commencing 4 June, 1885.

This is the brief but honorable record of one whose life has been devoted to industries and enterprises which are the source of general prosperity.

He married Myra Tilton, daughter of Ira and Rhoda [Ames] Elliott, of Sanbornton, 19 Jan., 1861.

The child of Benjamin Ames and Myra Tilton [Elliott] Kimball was,—

Mrs. Ernie Pyle Dies; Ill Since Writer's Death

'That Girl' of His Columns Roamed the Hemisphere With Him for 5 Years

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 23 (AP).—Mrs. Ernie Pyle, forty-four, wife of the late war correspondent and often referred to as "that girl" in his column, died at St. Joseph's Hospital here today. Her physician attributed her death to complications which developed after an attack of influenza. She was taken to the hospital on Wednesday from the little white frame cottage where she had lived since her husband left to cover the war.

Ill Since Husband's Death

Mrs. Pyle had been in ill health since the death of Mr. Pyle on the Ima last since that time. She was in Albuquerque to see her mother on July 3 and received the Navy Medal posthumously on August 1.

Patricia was found in the waiting room of St. Louis Union Station yesterday by a member of the Traveler's Aid Society. She said she had decided to visit her grandmother, Mrs. Cecil Barton, because her teacher "blamed me for things I didn't do and I didn't want to go back to school."

She said she boarded a train in Grand Central Terminal and just kept riding until she got to St. Louis.

Her father said Patricia would be allowed to stay at her grandmother's until she "gets over her" about school.

JOSEPH MOODY.

The family of William, father of Joseph Moody, was intimately connected with the family of Joseph Kimball. Moody seemed to be a popular middle name for many of his descendants. It appears in the preceding pages fifteen times. They first settled in the town of Newbury, Mass. William married Sarah, daughter of Joseph Kimball, of Exeter, afterwards of Canterbury (see page 25). He with his family came from Newbury to Canterbury 10 Feb., 1794. Joseph, their oldest son, was named for his grandfather Kimball. He married Hannah, daughter of Jonathan Foster, of Canterbury, 22 Nov., 1815, and continued on the farm at Canterbury until 1835, when he came to Concord and assisted his brother Charles in carrying on the farm then and now the property of Joseph B. Walker. For a time he lived in the house now the homestead of Mrs. Samuel Coffin. In 1842 he purchased a farm in North Concord, where he resided twenty years. It was here his mother, Sarah, and his only son, Nathaniel, died. In 1863 he with his wife moved to Penacook, where they spent the close of a long and honored life with their children and grandchildren. In 1828 he represented the town of Canterbury in the legislature. Joseph died at Penacook 2 March, 1879, aged nearly ninety-one years. Hannah his wife died 3 Dec., 1873.
