GILMANTON — Gilmanton Cafe is featuring original oil paintings by local Gilmanton artist Betty Mitchell. Her work will be on display for about a month.

Mitchell curates the art exhibition at the Town Hall during Old Home Day each year.

She describes the collection of 10 paintings on display as having been inspired by her travels in Italy. Her images of metal, machines, and gears are universally recognizable. "The Amalfi Paper Works," for example, utilizes neutral colors, rusty tones, and shapes that inspire memories of traditional metal farming equipment. Other paintings are more abstract, using bold, geometric shapes.
