GILMANTON – Harold W. Miller Jr., 66, passed away Thursday, June 30, 2016, at his home with family by his side. He was born in Manchester, on Sept. 20, 1949, son of Harold W. Miller Sr. and Doris (Bourke) Miller. He retired from Graphic Packaging in 2004. Harry enjoyed woodworking, his model trains and his three dogs. Harry was also a fan of the Three Stooges and classic cars.

Family members include his wife of 18 years, Kendra (Shea-Landry) Miller; five daughters, Heather Fife of Tilton, Renee Miller of Tilton, Christine Miller of Tilton, Rebecca Miller of Concord and Brittany Miller of Milford; two brothers, Edward Miller and his wife, Sylvia of Calabash, N.C. and Steven Miller of San Diego; two sisters, Linda Bachelor of Burns Flat, Okla. and Ann Block of Marshfield, Mo.; a sister-in-law, Phyllis Miller of Fayetteville, N.C.; and his nine grandchildren; survivors also include many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his parents, two brothers, Tom Miller of Fayetteville, N.C. and Bruce Miller of Stoddard.

The family wishes to thank two nieces, Bonnie Rivist and her family of Washington and Tracy Cogan of Paducah, Ky. for their support and help during this time. The family would also like to thank Concord VNA/Hospice for their kindness and support.

Cremation took place at Cremation Society of New Hampshire. A day of celebration of Harry's life will be on Saturday, July 16, after 1 p.m. at his home in Gilmanton.
