of the work. We must have the dates of enlistment and discharge, whether the soldier served in army, navy or marines, whether in infantry, cavalry or artillery, and, in case of a sailor or marine, the name of at least one ship on which he soldier saw service. This is the first step in obtaining the head stones or the unmarked graves. Following is a list of unmarked graves, for which we want information: Warren Lovejoy, John York, Lyman Gale, Charles Hutchins, George P. Barron, Paul Otis, Adelbert Rollins, David E. Sage, Charles Allen, William Tilton, some one by name of Flanders in same cemetery as Mr. Tilton, William Twombly, Jerry Leavitt, Henry Avery, and some one by the name of Brown from Loudon, who is buried in the Bussell cemetery. Any information received about the mentioned soldiers will be a big help in the work. It is our intention to have a big record book of all veterans buried in our town and if any one wants to help out in the record book, they may forward information regarding any of our soldiers dead. One soldier buried in Beech Grove cemetery is unknown and if any one can help in identifying him they will be a big help to us. Of course we can't get the stone for the grave unless we can find out who is buried there. For many years it has been the custom to place a flag on his grave on Decoration Day, but no one here really knows for sure if the party buried there is a veteran. It is our job to see that all veterans' graves are so marked that the next generation will not be fronted with the kind of a question as we are in regard to his unknown grave.

The social was postponed Friday evening, because of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Orange. The social will be held this week, Friday evening.

Mrs. Orange died Thursday night, just seven days after the death of her daughter, Miss Sadie H. Orange. Mrs. Orange was very aged. The record of her age having been lost, it is uncertain just how old she was. Up to within a very few years she had been so very active that few people considered her as old. The funeral, which was private, was held from the late home, "Orangewood," Sunday afternoon, and the body was taken to Lowell, Mass., for burial. Mrs. Orange leaves two daughters, Mrs. Mae Glidden of Boston and Mrs. Etta Brown of Gilmanston, two grandsons, Henry Glidden of Boston and George J. Brown of Franklin, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Brown Dewar. Besides several nieces and nephews.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson of Laconia spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. McClary.

Mrs. Clyde E. Nutter and son, Kenneth of Lakeport, are visiting with her mother, Postmaster Edith Springer.

Mrs. Jack McClary has been spending a few days with her sister in Loudon.

William S. P. Sanderson, chaplain of Belknap County Pomona Grange, attended the meeting of the order in Laconia last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Nutter of Concord were Sunday guests at Frank McClary's.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Moody of Belmont were in town Sunday.

Charles T. Marsh made a business trip to Laconia, Friday.
