

1952... Manchester, N.H. Farmers Market that was on 60 Pearl St. at the time. Here is farmer-merchant F. A. Ederly of Gilmanton, N.H. putting in a flat square of freshly churned uncolored Guernsey butter for a steady customer. www.facebook.com/NewHampshireThenAndNow

My great Uncle Frank. He sold a lot of the produce from my grandparents farm, as well as his own: butter, cut flowers, vegetables and fruit and eggs. His farm in Lower Gilmanton is gone now, but I think of him whenever I drive by the place it used to be. J.Heath Facebook
