

A rustic wooden fence made of weathered logs and posts runs along a grassy field. The scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting late afternoon or early morning. In the background, there are dense green trees and a glimpse of a road or driveway. The overall mood is peaceful and nostalgic.

Driving Backwards

Jessica Lander